Event: Installation of Officers

Place: Anchor Club House

Beryl Gramms Installed 1939 Anchor Skipper

Miss Beryl Gramms was installed skipper of the Anchor Girls for the ensuing year Friday evening at a beautifully impressive formal candlelight ceremony at the club house. Other officers also taking office were Mrs. Ella Lonberg, first mate; Miss Aini Tihila, yeoman; Mrs. Harriette Meyers, purser; Mrs. Mildred Oja, historian; Mrs. Vera Craig, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Lucile Thiel, executive representative.

1938 officers and past skippers of the club acted as installing officers. Mrs. Nora Johnson, retiring skipper, was presented with a lovely past skippers pin. She also remembered each of her cabinet members with small tokens of appreciation for the cooperation she received from them. Outgoing officers were presented with corsages.

Miss Ruth Carlson acted as guard and Mrs. Florence Smith as accompanist for the evening.

First Mate Mrs. Elsa Lonberg will act as skipper of the club during the absence of Miss Gramms in January and February. Miss Gramms will be in Salem acting as secretary to Frank Franciscovich.

After the installation, dainty refreshments were served by the retiring officers. A sailing vessel, built by H. Luhtala, was an attractive centerpiece with blue crepe paper forming a sea of waves. Small guard rope was used to complete the nautical decoration. Tall white and blue tapers at each end of the table furnished the light.

Members present for the installation included Mesdames Freda Englund, Elsie Frye, Margaret Foster, June Horton, Viola Johnson, Nora Johnson, Elsa Lonberg, Harriette Meyers, Barbara Noggle, Mildred Oja, Bea Scoffern, Florence Smith, Anita Steen, Ethel Steinberger, Fanny Taylor, Lucile Thiel, Melba Winters and Vera Craig; the Misses Alice Benson, Ruth Carlson, Ann Cosovich, Marie Gjovik, Beryl Gramms, Dorothy Grimberg, Sylvia Hostikka, Adele Kamara, Elsie Kesler, Gertrude Koski, Laina Koski, Florence Kurg, Verle Leppla, Dorothy Miller, Ellen Miner, Sylvia Niemi, Ruth Prouty, Dorothy Simonsen, Anita Stevens, Aini Tihila, Georganne Wilson and Cilvia Winters.

The Anchor Girls "at home" at their club house Wednesday evening was a delightful social function open to the public. Calling hours were from 8 to 10 o'clock.

Spring blossoms and large vases of daffodils and narcissus attractively arranged on low end tables and on the tea table made a colorful background for the affair.

Guests were taken on a tour of inspection about the rooms. The nautical motif has been carried out in the drapes, floor linoleum and novel bric-a-brac for a most attractive club house. A new gas range has recently been purchased and entertaining can be done now at the club house.

Lull In Pre-Regatta Days; Regatta Social Functions To Be Many

Social activity is practically at a standstill these pre-Regatta days, but plans for a gay Regatta week are taking shape with entertaining for Queen Frances and the royal princesses, the congressional visitors here for the Tongue Point dedication, and visiting yachtsmen and families from Seattle and Portland, forecasting one of the brightest social Regattas.

Entertaining is formally under way tomorrow when the Anchor Girls are hostesses for a large tea at their clubhouse from 3 to 5 o'clock.

Luncheons are planned early next week to honor Regatta royalty and already several civic luncheon groups have bidden the court as guests. One of the outstanding functions of the week will be the luncheon Thursday on board the Onondaga, served as members of the official dedication party come down the river following the Tongue Point ceremonies. Commander and Mrs. Frank Higbee will be hosts for the affair with distinguished guests including the Governor and Mrs. Charles Sprague, congressional members and their wives, and other prominent Oregon citizens.

Regatta week climaxes summer social activities and is a busy round of social functions for society folk.

Anchor Club To Sponsor Dance

And well may we sit back in this subtle Autumn's lull and reflect back on our very successful summer activities. The Regatta has been pronounced a success in every way and the Anchors may again take pride in having been responsible for a large part of that success.

THE REGATTA SEASON TICKET SALE WAS VERY EFFICIENTLY HANDLED BY ELSIE FRYE AND HER COMMITTEE THIS YEAR.

THE GRAY LITTLE HOUSE PERCHED ON THE
SIDEWALK RIGHT IN FRONT OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK JUST BEFORE REGATTA WAS NONE OTHER THAN SEASON TICKET HEADQUARTERS.

ON THE TICKET COMMITTEE WERE:

Elsie Frye, Chairman
Lois Walker
Madeline Arnold
Louise Saario

A novel means of raising money for the Club was initiated at one of our meetings. Little aprons (like sample) with pockets in them were passed to each girl. Each member was to deposit in the pocket as many pennies as her waistline measures inches. We aren't saying who has to contribute the most but this proved <sup>to be</sup> a very successful, as well as entertaining, idea.

Eloise Peterson Weds Conway Cox At Beautiful Ceremony Climaxing Holy Week

One of the most beautiful weddings of the springtime was that of Miss Eloise Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Peterson, to Conway Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Cox, against the traditional background of white with Easter lilies and stately calla lilies forming the setting. The marriage was solemnized at 8 o'clock Saturday evening in the First Norwegian Lutheran church, climaxing the Holy week. Rev. Theodore Gulhaugen read the vows.

The bride, exquisite in a gown of white satin with long train with inserts of lace, wore a long tulle veil which fell from a halo in her hair and was fastened with orange blossoms. She carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies. Miss Peterson was given in marriage by her father.

Bridesmaids, cousins of the bride, were Miss Adelaine Sather, who chose a peach net dress, Miss Dorothy Bue, wearing a blue net, and Miss Elinor Bue, a fuchsia net dress. Every plane which crossed was lost, and every pilot who fell into the hands of the desert Bedouins was ransomed or killed. It was May, 1928, before this line was effective through to Dakar, and even then planes had to fly in groups of two or three for the protection of the pilots because Arabs on the ground shot them down whenever they could, and rifled the mails. Progress in pushing the Mermoz line southward was costly. Eleven French fliers went down in opening the line to Dakar. ## COMMENTS

After months of preparation, the first appearance of the new Juvenile, who now tips the scales at 7 lbs., 8 oz., shows great promise of future gain in both weight and popularity. In the first scene, the star appears in the nude, creating quite a sensation. The little darling gets a big hand, and the first aria is greeted enthusiastically. From here on the child wonder gives a lusty and boisterous performance. After playing the first few weeks at Columbia Hospital, the show will move to Walker Apts. where there will be a continuous performance, day and night. Reservations should be made in advance.

Nurses' Chorus To Appear In Mystery Play

"Seeing
is believing"
— they say.

The Nurses' Chorus of "Mystery at Midnight," enlivens Act Two of the musical mystery comedy being presented at the high school auditorium tonight and tomorrow night at 8:13 P.M. Anchor girls in tonight's chorus include: Irene Bewersdorff, Elsie Frye, Mildred Wheeler, Barbara Noggle, Ellamae Naylor and Laina Koski. Dorothy Grimberg sings the accompanying solo.

Anchor Club Lists Cast Of Coming Play

The all-star cast of "Mystery at Midnight" to be given October 19 and 20 at the High School auditorium, was revealed today.

It includes Charles Birch as an absent-minded professor; Elsie Kesler as Spinster Elvia — definitely man-hunting; "Ike" Winters as an ex-convict; Bill Gribler as a typical inspector; Johnny Wilson and Patricia Kruckman as the romantic leads, and Marian Somerset as snooty Mrs. Holloway.

Otto Maunula will play the part of a gruff old judge, Vera Craig puts her faith in the realm of spirits in her role of Negro maid, and Beryl Gramms will play the giggling flapper "Sally," also man-hunting. Johnny Kildall portrays a tough bus driver.

But the role of the "Stranger" haunting the play will remain a mystery until the night of the play.

Talent for the musical interludes of the mystery play are drawn mainly from the members of the Anchor Club itself, which is the sponsor of the production.

Direction of the play is under Miss Helen Edmonson, who is associated with the National Producing company. Mrs. Robert Taylor is chairman of the play committee, with Mrs. W. E. Naylor, Florence Wheeler Smith and Miss Mildred Wheeler assisting.

Curtain will rise each night of the play at exactly 8:13 p. m.

Anchor Girls Present Comedy Of Midnight Thrill

The Anchor Girls and their dramatic auxiliaries presented the three-act comedy, "Mystery at Midnight," to a large audience at the Astoria high school Friday night. It will be shown again tonight at 8:13 in the same place.

Directed by copyright owners of the comedy, in which interest is developed in a series of unexpected situations, local amateur talent put on a good show. The plot is spun around a "framed" highway accident in which one of the assengers, a fussy old retired judge, played by Otto Maunula, is robbed of his stake. The burden of carrying the plot through falls heavily on William Gribler, a noisy detective, who does a good job of it. The lighter roles were well played. These included Beryl Gramms, a flapper free agent who made most of her opportunities; Elsie Kesler, equally inclined to romance, but handicapped by age; and Charles Birch, who made much of another stock character, that of an absent minded academician. Jack Martela, who played "The Stranger," in the play also sang with the chorus. Vera Craig was a good negro spiritualist.

Important parts in the production were played by Eugene Winters, Patricia Kruckman, Marion Somerset, John Wilson, and John Kildall.

Chorus Girls For Anchor Play Go Through Steps

Chorus girls for the Anchor Girls comedy, "Mystery at Midnight," are going through their final steps, and the cast of the play is going through its lines without a hitch, according to a communique issued by the vociferous publicity bureau of the production. The play, including the chorus girls, will be presented at the Astoria high school auditorium Thursday and Friday nights, beginning at 8:13. The odd starting time is by no means the only mystery in the comedy, the committee on publicity stressed today.

The play is charged with terrible tribulations, but love in the end triumphs. Bill Gribler contributes his talents to solve the mystery. He plays the role of a Hollywood flat-foot. John Wilson and Patricia Baker have the leads. Other members of the cast are Johnny Kildall, Eugene Winters, Charles Birch, Elsie Kesler, Otto Maunula, Vera Craig, Marian Somerset and Beryl Gramms. Then there is the stranger in the mystery play whose identity has not been disclosed.

The chorus girls are Mildred Wheeler, Margaret Malen, Irene Bewersdorff, Barbara Noggle, Ellamae Naylor, Laina Koski, Alice Benson, Marie Gjovik, Elsie Frye and Georgeanne Wilson. They will be accompanied by Florence Wheeler Smith.

Miss Elsie Kesler Elected Head Of Anchor Drum Corp

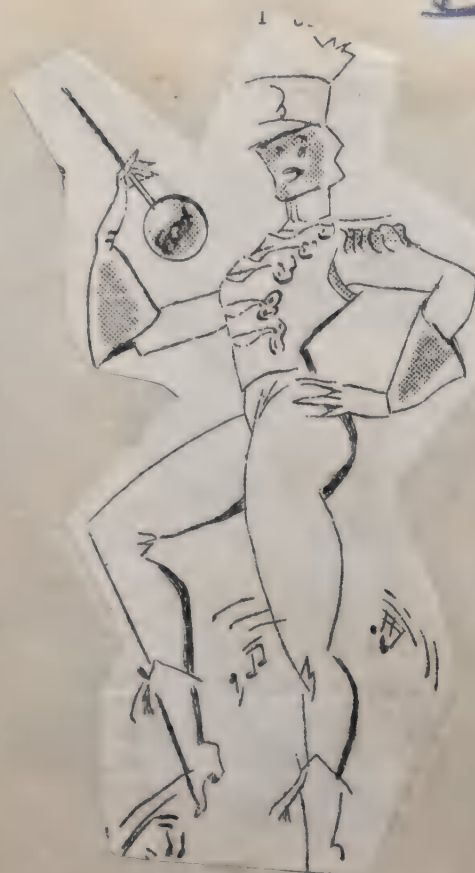

Miss Elsie Kesler was elected commander of the Anchor Girls' drum corps Thursday evening at the annual spring banquet held at the club house. The officers' staff elected include Miss Adele Kamara, historian, and Miss Silvia Winters, quartermaster.

Plans were formulated for a benefit dance to be held in conjunction with the Royal Chinooks on Wednesday, April 19.

Daffodils and greens centered the banquet table.

Members present for the affair were Miss Irene Bewersdorf, Miss Helen Carlson, Miss Marie Gjovik, Miss Beryl Gramms, Miss Sylvia Hostikka, Miss Adele Kamara, Miss Elsie Kesler, Miss Laina Koski, Miss Pat Kruckman, Miss Florence Krug, Miss Verle Leppla, Miss Anna Mackey, Miss Sylvia Niemi, Miss Eloise Peterson, Miss Ruth Prouty, Miss Anita Stevens, Miss Silvia Winters, Miss Althea Oglesby, Miss Midge Wheeler, Miss Dorothy Luoma, Mrs. Vera Craig, Mrs. June Horton, Mrs. Ellen Miner, Mrs. Harriett Meyers, Mrs. Barbara Noggle, Miss Mildred Oja, Mrs. Florence Smith and Frank Meyers, manager.

Retiring officers of the group are Miss Sylvia Niemi, commander, Miss Sylvia Hostikka, historian, and Miss Verle Leppla, quartermaster.

NEWS

DIDJA KNOW

That tonight is the night of the Anchor Drum Corps and Royal Chinooks Benefit dance at the Recreation Center? It's deserving of your support to plan to attend.

That in most of the smaller restaurants in the smaller towns in France, during the world war, the regular customers provided their own bread and napkins, and each one had their own locker in the restaurant for the storage of their bread and napkin; transient customers were served bread from the regular restaurant supply?

That our new store will soon be ready for your inspection, but in the meantime don't hesitate to come in and look over our Spring and Summer lines of Hart Schaffner and Marx and Varsity Town Suits?

That today we extend Birthday Greetings to Wm. F. Kruschki, Oscar Newquist, Peter Gagnet and Jens H. Hansen?

BURKE'S MEN'S STORE

Much praise should be given the drum corps and the Royal Chinooks for taking the responsibility of raising money for entering a float in the Rose Show to advertise the Astoria Regatta. The dance, held April 19th, was a huge success. More power to them.

Welcome! New drum corps members Elna Johnson, Althea Oglesby, Margaret Malen, Flora Peldo and Mildred Wheeler.

Here's lots of good luck to all of you this year and we know that by working hard you can't help but "come out on top" at the Rose Show.

Once more we have a Drum Corps. Mr. H. T. Hacker (Herb to you) has finally consented to be our instructor. With as much enthusiasm as was shown at the first practice the drum corps should once again make the headlines. We have a couple of new "blowers", but Commander Syl. H. is still on the lookout for a few more. Anyone interested see her.

Wolf Ck. Caravan Sponsors Invite All Astorians Who Want To Join March Friday

All interested Astorians and Seaside folk may join the Astoria delegation to the Wolf Creek highway caravan Friday, officially opening the new highway, but must have passes obtainable from the Astoria Chamber of Commerce or from F. G. Mauser in Seaside in order to get on the highway that day.

The main caravan will leave Portland Friday morning, rolling westward over the new route to Sunset camp east of Elsie, where an Astoria delegation will join it at 2:30 p. m.

From Sunset camp, following a program there, the caravan will continue on to Seaside for a banquet that night. Various state notables and dignitaries will be included in the caravan, which after its stay in Seaside overnight will continue on to Tillamook to return to Portland Saturday via the new Wilson river road.

CHAMBER HAS PASSES

Passes to get on the new highway and tickets for the Sunset Camp activities and the Seaside banquet will all be obtained through the Astoria Chamber of Commerce. It will be necessary to have a pass for your car before you can enter the highway.

Persons not intending to join the caravan at Portland and travel the entire distance of the new route, will form an Astoria delegation at Sunset Camp just east of Elsie, by 2:30 p. m. Friday. It is necessary that these persons register with the Chamber of Commerce to obtain their passes and tickets.

Transportation can be arranged for persons not having cars of their own by registration at the Chamber office.

ADMIRAL, QUEEN GOING

Among the celebrities in the official caravan will be the Astoria Regatta association's new 1939 Admiral, Frank Branch Riley of Portland. Admiral Riley will meet Queen Frances Anne at Sunset Camp and escort her the remainder of the route into Seaside and during the banquet.

The Anchor Drum corps of Astoria will play a prominent part in the parade which will complete the caravan at Seaside.

All motorists intending to participate in the Astoria caravan delegation are asked to register at the Chamber of Commerce to obtain banners for their cars and passes for their party. Tickets for the event, including the banquet, will cost $1.50 per person.

Two Drum Corps And Band Combine For Coronation

For the first time in history, Astoria's three major marching-musical organizations will combine as a unit for a program at the coronation of Queen Frances Ann Mott of the Regatta Wednesday night, August 30.

Managers of the Anchor drum corps, American Legion drum corps and Elks band decided to get together and put on the joint number, which they will make as colorful and spectacular as possible.

Each group will march in from a different side of the coronation ground on Gyro field and they will merge in front of the grandstand to play together the same piece of music.

The three groups will rehearse tonight at 7 o'clock at the S. P. & S. depot in preparation for the joint appearance.

NEW OFFICERS:

Commander -----Elsie Kesler
Quartermaster -----Cilvia Winters
Historian -----Adele Kamara.

These officers were elected at the successful banquet held at the Club Rooms with thirty members present. (Believe Turkey and trimmings was the main dish.)

Don't forget the Corps is working hard to raise funds for a float in the Rose Show and every effort of all Anchors should go forth to support them.

On Wednesday April 19th the Drum Corps and Royal Chinooks are having a joint dance at the Regatta Headquarters for the Rose Festival float. Let's all work hard on the pre-ticket sale and gain the necessary goal.

THREE CHEERS FOR THE DRUM CORPS AND FRANK!

Rose Festival's Queen Here Today

Queen Frances Hulse of last year's Portland Rose Festival and her six princesses will be honor guests tonight at a dance being given by the Anchors and Royal Chinooks to raise money for an Astoria float in the 1939 Rose Festival parade. They will parade to the Recreation center preceding the dance, accompanied by local scorts.

Astoria Fetes Rose Queen

Astorians paid homage last evening to Queen Frances Hulse of the 1938 Rose Festival and her six princesses when they were guests in the city for the dance given in the Recreation Center by the Anchor Girls and Royal Chinooks to raise funds for the Regatta queen's float to be entered in the Rose Festival.

Accompany the royal party were about 20 Rosarians. Queen Frances extended an invitation to the townspeople to visit the rose show the early part of June. Dr. Donald Hood, president of the Rosarians, and Miss Jane Lagassee, queen of the 1938 Regatta, both gave short talks preceding the grand march.

Portland guests, Miss Lagassee, and the Anchor Girls gave a program over KAST at 7:45 p. m.

Rose Festival's Former Queen To Be Guest Here

Queen Frances Hulse and her court, the Portland Rose Festival royalty of yesteryear and their escorts will be honored guests at the Anchor Girls and Royal Chinooks dance in Recreation hall on April 19. Proceeds from the dance will defray expenses of a float in the Rose Festival in which the Astoria Regatta queen and princesses will ride in state, with Royal Chinooks escorting the float and the Anchor Girls drum corps leading.

1940 Officers

We wish to extend congratulations to the new Drum Corps officers:

Vera Craig, Commander

Irene Bowersdorf, Historian

Sylvia Hostikka, Quartormaster

Royal Court Slates Debut

Dressed in their official Regatta finery, Queen Frances Anne and her royal court, Princesses Eloise, Helen, Eleanor and Anita will make their first public appearance by beautifying the already exquisite float which is being financed by the Anchor club and the Royal Chinooks for entry in the Rose Festival June 9 at Portland.

The float which has been contracted for from drawings will be completely floral. It is 30 feet long and is typically Astoria. A huge salmon constitutes the center and main theme of the design. This will be surrounded by four sail boats, and at the back of the float, ahead of which will sit Queen Frances Anne, will be a large brilliant sunset. The princesses will surround the queen.

The Anchor club and the Royal Chinooks have financed the float by holding a series of dances and other entertainment and have been aided by other organizations. The unions have been especially kind and donations have been received from the Teamsters union, Carpenters union, Veneer Workers union, Culinary alliance, Building Trades union, Service Station employees, Dairy Workers union, Pile Drivers union, Auto Mechanics union, Shipbuilders union, Cannery Workers union, Retail Clerks union, International Longshoremen and Warehousemen and Barbers union.

Astoria Will Head Section In Parade

Astoria will be right out in front when floats and bands pass in review in the Floral Parade of Portland's Rose Festival on June 9.

Word has been received today at the Chamber of Commerce that the Anchor Drum Corps, the Royal Chinooks and the float bearing Queen Frances and her four royal princesses will head the section of the parade in which they march.

Jack Converse, grand marshal of the parade, said in arranging for this position, that "we feel we are putting one of our outstanding attractions in the position to which it rightly belongs."

Accompanying Queen Frances Anne, who will arrive in Astoria about June 7, will be her royal court consisting of Princesses Eloise Blue, Helen Hall, Anita Gimre and Eleanor Sorenson. The Anchor Drum Corps will be led by Drum Majorette Grace Gramms.

Other scheduled appearances of Queen Frances Anne of the Astoria Regatta include her visit to the San Francisco fair on Treasure Island for Astoria Day, July 5, and the St. Helens Jubilee on June 23.

The Astoria Regatta float in the Rose Festival Parade will be provided by the Anchor Drum Corps and the Royal Chinooks.

We were very proud of our float which won second place in the Rose Show. Queen Frances was as gracious as any queen might be.

Local Float Wins Prize

The Anchor Girls drum corps and the Royal Chinooks marching group, returned to Astoria late Friday after participating in the 31st annual Portland Rose Festival parade. The two organizations accompanied the decorated float, Astoria's first in many years, on which they presented Queen Frances Mott and her four princesses, in their first public appearance as the royalty of this year's annual Regatta.

The float, which won second prize in section three for the out-of-town entries in the parade, depicted a huge Chinook salmon made of pink peonies, with dark red mouth and eyes. At the back of the float was a large ship's wheel solid of bright marigolds with sprays of yellow iris. The whole float was sprayed with silver. Before this wheel the lovely, dark-haired Queen Frances was enthroned surrounded by her court. The queen wore a full white dress and the princesses were dressed in coral gowns trimmed in turquoise blue, and wore coral picture hats.

Following the parade Queen Frances and Princesses Anita Gimre, Eloise Blue, Eleanor Sorenson and Helen Hall, were guests of Queen Jean II at a luncheon held at the Multnomah hotel.

Rose Parade Event Viewed By 300,000

PORTLAND, (U.P.) — The biggest parade in the history of Portland's Rose Festival, a three-mile bouquet of flowers and pretty girls, threaded its way through 300,000 spectators jamming downtown streets today in the climax of the northwest's annual carnival tribute to the rose.

Cloudy skies and threats of rain were dispelled temporarily by warm sunshine as the festive procession of 72 flower-decked floats, 44 bands, and a score of drill teams moved out of Multnomah civic stadium over the parade route.

Three grand prize winners were announced as follows for floats:

Commercial division—First National Bank of Portland, featuring the fairyland characters Winken, Blinken and Nod in a golden shoe.

Astorians Headed For Rose Festival

Astorians visiting Portland for the Rose Festival Friday will see not only Rosaria's beautiful queen, but also Astoria's Regatta ruler, dark-haired Frances Mott and her royal court, escorted by the Royal Chinooks and the Anchor drum corps.

Regatta Princesses Eloise Blue, Eleanor Sorenson, Anita Gimre and Helen Hall will surround Queen-elect Frances in the grand float decorated with brilliant masses of roses. Twenty-seven members of the Anchor drum corps and marching unit of Royal Chinooks will form the royal escort.

This is the first year that Regatta royalty has been presented to Rose Festival audiences. In past years Regatta queens and their courts have taken part in ceremonies, but never in their own float. Year after year the Anchor drum corps has returned home with trophies from the festival.

Five Astoria girls will appear in the Maritime Federation float at the festival. These were selected as candidates by Joe Thomas, dispatcher of the Astoria local, and every one of them placed in the elimination contests in Portland more than a month ago.

Rose Queen Coronated In Big Festival

PORTLAND (U.P.)—The city of Portland today became an absolute monarchy, ruled by a slim, young girl who a few weeks ago was only one of many pretty seniors in the city's high schools.

Ruler of the city is Queen Jean II, once only Miss Jean Hoover, but now the supreme monarch of Portland's annual Rose Festival.

Queen Jean was crowned last night at the Multnomah civic stadium before a crowd of nearly 20,000 Portlanders and "outlanders," and until Saturday midnight none may say her nay.

The coronation, blessed by clearing skies and warming temperatures, was preceded by an impressive dance review, which included some 60-odd performers, and was followed by the military riding displays of the 11th U. S. cavalry of Monterey, Cal., and finally by a giant pyrotechnic display.

Today visitors and residents thronged to the famed rose show, always one of the festival's feature events, and visiting bands paraded through the streets. A great pageant is scheduled for Multnomah stadium tonight, and tomorrow morning the floral parade, highlight of all festivals, will wind through Portland streets.

Spring Garden To Be Theme For Anchor Girls Ball

The Anchor Girls will be hostesses this evening at the Astoria Country club for a semi formal dance when the ballroom of the club will be transformed into a spring garden. An ivy arch way and a low white lattice fence decorated with spring blossoms will form the background for the orchestra, and colorful artificial trees will be about the room. On the fireplace mantel a huge bouquet of peonies guarded by baskets of snowballs will form another spring note.

The Columbians will furnish music for the affair, and over 400 invitations have been sent to Astoria residents. Dancing will be from 10 until 2.

Jack Martilla will present a vocal selection at intermission.

The committee in charge of the dance includes Mrs. Lucile Thiel, Mrs. Elsa Lonberg, Mrs. Elsie Frye, and Miss Carolyn Grimberg.

Numerous cocktail parties have been planned to precede the affair, several hosts including Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Saario and Mr. and Mrs. James Holmes honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ansel Page of Portland.

CORONATION TONIGHT WILL OPEN FROLIC

Tonight's Program May Go Indoors
If Rain Continues; Admiral Reaches
Port This Afternoon On Manana II

The 1939 Regatta officially opens tonight at 8 in Gyro field when coronation ceremonies for crowning of Queen Frances Anne as ruler of the annual water sports festival begin.

Rear admirals, including many of Oregon's distinguished citizens and public officials, will appear at Gyro field a half an hour before. After the coronation Recreation hall will attract Regatta crowds. Last minute preparations were rushed to completion today at the play center.

Regatta officials scanned the skies anxiously as a gentle rain began about noon today. Regatta Chairman Guy Hickok said that if the rain continued and was copious enough to prevent holding the coronation ceremonies outdoors, they would be held instead in the Regatta pavilion.

Accompanied by many members of his staff, Admiral Frank Branch Riley will arrive aboard his flagship, the large Portland yacht Manana II, at the Astoria yacht club this afternoon at 4. When the admiral reaches the club moorings, the greater part of his fleet will be at Astoria, either at the club or engaged in fishing, both in the river and over the bar.

Four hours after he steps off the flagship, Admiral Riley will place a crown on the Regatta, dark-haired queen, Frances Anne, under the bright lights of Gyro field. Coronation ceremonies, arranged by the Anchor Girls club, call for participation of the Royal Chinooks, Elks band, Anchor Girls drum corps, the admiral's staff, Singing Sailorettes and a number of individual performers.

the boat. Mayor Joseph K. Carson of Portland; L. R. Teeple, the 1938 Regatta admiral; Judge Hall, a local secretary of state; Earl Snell, Willis K. Clark, Tom Shea, Tommy Luke, James H. Polhemus, Kenneth D. Hauser and Henry L. Corbett, all vice admirals.

Admiral E. B. Fener, commandant of the Thirteenth naval district at Bremerton, who will dedicate the new naval base at Tongue Point, and his aide, Lieutenant Commander G. E. Sage, will be in Astoria this afternoon to complete details for ceremonies at Tongue point Thursday.

Among other notables in Astoria are Neil R. Allen, commander of the American Legion, and Mrs. Allen, Grants Pass; and Dr. Ben F. Pound, chef de gare of 40 et 8, and Mrs. Pound, of Salem; Walter Pearson, state treasurer, and Senator Charles L. McNary, Congressman and Mrs. James W. Mott are here, Senator Rufus Holman is nearby at Gearhart, and Nan Wood Honeyman, ex-congresswoman, is at Seaside.

Large Fleet Now Here

A large fleet of Portland Yacht club boats, headed by the Crod Jean II, owned by the Portland Yacht club commodore, Steve Wilcox, has been in the lower river for more than a week. Yachtmen have been deep sea fishing and trolling for salmon in the Columbia. Yacht club members are crowded with visiting boats. Already arrived here are the Star mast racing boats, numerous sailboats and several Crods.

Cyclermen To Appear

Saturday night closes the exhibition of the Portland motorcycle squad at Gyro field and something very special in the entertainment line is promised Astoria people and Regatta visitors when Portland's mounted men go into action. In various cities in the country the police squad has appeared with their sensational show and everywhere the reception has been the same, the crowds asking for more.

The exhibition is scheduled here for Saturday night at the Gyro field immediately following the downtown parade of motorcycle men. The Astoria Kiwanis club is sponsoring the appearance of the daring riders and the proceeds of the show will be used in financing a new two way radio alarm service for the Astoria police department. Tickets are now on sale in various places and on the street.

The exhibition includes various stunt features and is guaranteed to thrill both old and young.

Queen Frances immediately began her round of official duties, going as guest to the Rotary club luncheon at noon, and from there being scheduled to go on a visit to salmon canneries. An active summer of appearances here and elsewhere is being arranged for her.

Regatta Setup Complete

Convill Asks For Local Performers

Astoria can furnish good and gay home town entertainment to lighten the hours of skippers and crews during their "shore leaves" at the time of the 1939 regatta.

A strong argument for local entertainment, good and wholesome stuff, was made by James O. Convill, vice chairman of the Regatta association at the meeting of the organization Friday night. He pointed out that the recent show presented by the skating rink was interesting to watch and would "go over" better with the public than out of town shows.

ORGANIZATION COMPLETED

Organization of the Regatta machinery was completed Friday night except for naming of the finance chairman. Generalissimo Guy N. Hickok appointed as his vice chairman James O. Convill who will be assisted by Ed Hansen on the properties committee. Tom Cunning accepted the post of the association's secretary and publicity chairman. James L. Hope is legal adviser and Fred Ransom, treasurer-comptroller. His duties include supervision of pavilion activities. Hickok named M. R. Chessman as current historian. Tim de Jong is a member of the finance committee. Joe Dyer heads the marine events committee, assisted by A. C. Fulton, Alex Gilbert, T. B. Cook, Henry Niemela and Axel Englund.

OTHER CHAIRMEN NAMED

Veteran Regatta organizer William Seeborg heads the committee on aquatic and shore events. Arthur Fertig is head of concessions, assisted by Leslie Plummer. Parker Woods will be in charge of the carnival and entertainment. J. C. Ten Brook will be host to distinguished guests. Arthur Anderson heads the committee on the royal court. Sylvia Niemi is in charge of the coronation program.

On the salmon derby committee are William McGregor, chairman, Henry Niemela and Arthur Anderson. Trophies will be taken care of by Arthur Hildebrand.

Hickok reported that the Singing Sailorettes from Portland would appear again for the Regatta. They were a star attraction last year. Seattle yachtsmen will return to race in the flattie competition, it was reported by J. M. Dyer. Several local boats will be entered in this division.

These Girls Will Be Regatta's Princesses

To Rule at Astoria Regatta

ASTORIA, June 24 (Special)—Miss Frances Ann Mott, 18, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. James Mott of Salem, recently named queen of the Astoria regatta, August 31 to September 2, arrived on the noon train Wednesday to begin her reign and was greeted by Guy Hickok, chairman of the regatta committee. An active summer program of public appearances has been planned for her.

Here's to the Regatta
And to our gracious Queen,
May this year's water show
Be the best we've ever seen
We hope the Anchors get the Credit that is due.
For helping the Regatta Committee
Put this show through.
Many a day we slave and worry
From morn till day is done
And after it's all over
We'll admit it's been "gobs"
of fun.

Concessions Lined Up For Regatta

The concessions committee of the Astoria Regatta, headed by Arthur Fertig, this week is polishing off the broadest entertainment program in the history of the water show—climaxed by the four-day stand of one of America's top dance bands—Paul Pendarvis.

All entertainment is built around the famous orchestra and Fertig has announced a complementary program that contains the fullest list of joy events ever staged. Thursday and Friday nights, Dan Hall and S. W. Blue will direct hundreds of children performers in a return of the tremendously successful show held in the Regatta pavilion this spring. Tap dancing, tumbling, skating and choral singing is included in the show, which will be held for the two nights, between 8 and 9 o'clock. On both nights, from 9 to 9:30, the Sons of Neptune will stage illuminated aquatic stunts off the Regatta dock before start of the nightly shindig.

Pirates Den is Prepared

Pendarvis' music will nationally broadcast Wednesday and Friday for a half hour between 11:15 and 11:45 over a network originating through KGW from the Regatta pavilion.

Fertig said the Pirates' Den, on the playway, supervised by the American Legion and Ray Scoffern, manager of the drum corps, will have 45-minute shows every hour during each evening. Scoffern has arranged for a snappy seven-piece band as musical background for the shows, which will include dancing and singing.

The Greater Douglas shows' carnival will be held this year both inside and outside the Regatta dock. The rides, of which there will be right this year compared to five in 1938, are especially designed for children. The Douglas shows will probably come here direct from St. Helens and the Columbia county fair next week.

Pyrotechnics on Program

Saturday night, on Gyro field, the Portland police reservists will stage their brilliant motorcycle-riding exhibitions when the troop of 17 riders roar through the tricks that have won for them coast-wide renown in their first year of organization. Following the motorcycle show and for a half-hour before the Regatta ball, the spectators will be treated to a pyrotechnic display on Gyro field.

Roy Karinen and Reed Endicott are joint chairmen for the dance. Concessions inside the Regatta dock are being supervised by the Anchor Girls club, chairman of which will be Mrs. Harriette Meyers.

Elaborate Preparations Made For Coronation Of Queen Frances Ann Mott

With Regatta festivities beginning tonight, plans and arrangements have been completed to make this year's water carnival surpass all others. Beginning with the coronation ceremony this evening, at Gyro field and lasting the remainder of the week, Queen Frances Ann Mott and her princesses, Anite Gimre, Eloise Blue, Helen Hall, and Eleanor Sorenson, will reign over the city of Astoria and its annual water celebration.

Under the direction of the Anchor club girls committee of Sylvia Niemi, Sylvia Hostikka, Elsa Lonberg, Mildred Oja and Beryl Gramms, arrangements for the coronation ceremony have taken form.

City Manager James O. Convill will act as master of ceremonies for the occasion, with Admiral Frank Branch Riley crowning the queen and Dr. W. C. Logan, mayor of Astoria, presenting the scepter to "her majesty." Miss Jane Lagassee, queen of the 1938 Regatta, and Admiral L. R. Teeple will be present. Invitations have been issued to Queen Jean Hoover of the Portland Rose Festival, Queen Pauline (Betty Berkeley) of the Longview Rolleo, and to the courts of the St. Helens and Oregon City celebrations, to participate in the event.

Ceremony Begins At 8

The ceremony will begin at 8 p. m. with Gyro field decorated to form a setting for the program. Trees will be placed to form a background, fronted by a large design of an old sailing vessel.

The queen will be dressed in white chiffon over taffeta formal, made in an off the shoulder style with dainty puffed sleeves. The four princesses are wearing coral taffeta dresses trimmed in aqua velvet ribbon, made with shirred bodices and bouffant skirts. Their wraps, which were made by Queen Frances, are white lined with coral to match the dresses. The queen's robe will be of white velvet trimmed in white fur, with blue satin lining.

Joyce Carter and Barbara Calender, the little flower girls, will be dressed similar to the princesses in aqua taffeta dresses trimmed in coral ribbon. Pages will be Fred Hope, Hollis Ransom Jr., and Jon Charles Cosovich. Trumpeters announcing the arrival of the royal party will be Lois Meyers and Mary Jane Pfund.

Elks Band Will Play

Music will be furnished by the Elks band. A program following the coronation will consist of numbers by Paul Hutchinson's Singing Sailorettes of Portland, the American Legion drum corps drill from the state convention, an acrobatic dance by Miss Vivian Dahlgren, vocal numbers by the quartet consisting of Dan Hall, Dr. Fred Lindstrom, George Blackwell and J. MacLaughlin. Phyllis Charles studio will present a silver ballet, a vocal solo by Miss Adele Anderson of Seaside, and a drill by the Anchor club girls drum corps.

To sports events during the Regatta the queen will be dressed in a white flannel suit and princesses will wear white skirts and royal blue flannel jackets, roller hats and white shoes.

Coronation of the new Regatta queen on Gyro field Wednesday night will be a fittingly dramatic send-off to the annual festival. This is a scene from a previous coronation.

Down Goes The Flag As The Winner Crosses The Line

One of the most crowd-pleasing events at the Regatta is the outboard racing. Here is the finish of one race, with the starter's flag about to drop as the winning boat, far right, whizzes across the line.

General View Of Regatt a Sailing Race Area

Attractive scenes such as this, with an ever-changing parade of marine craft, are spread out before Regatta grandstand crowds who face this vista of river. Here are a group of sailboat racers, with a coast guard surfboat at the left, one of the boats which patrol the course.

Swish! Go Racing Fish Boats Past Grandstand

Some of the fastest gillnet fish boats on the Columbia river will show their speed during the annual fishboat races of the Regatta. Here is a scene from one of last year's races.

Birlers Are Big Regatta Feature

The hardy sport of log-rolling or birling gets added excitement when it is performed in the swiftly running waters of the Columbia river instead of a smooth pond. Log rolling contests will once again be a Regatta feature this year.

Spinning a 'Marble'

Sylvia Winters, Clatsop county's national champion girl log roller, has developed a new stunt, spinning Paul Bunyan's 'marble.'

Send Envoy For Regatta

Carrying news of the Astoria Regatta to governors, mayors and ordinary citizens of several northwestern states, Harold Haynes of this city and Mrs. Haynes are leaving tonight by automobile on a two weeks trip taking them as far east as Minnesota.

Armed with credentials from Governor Sprague, Acting Mayor Axel Williams of Astoria, and Chairman Guy Hickok of the Regatta commission, Haynes will present Regatta commissions to the governors of Idaho, Montana, North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Wyoming, also to mayors of principal cities along the route. He will carry Astoria Chamber of Commerce and Oregon Coast Highway association literature for distribution.

Among the cities where Haynes will give commissions to the mayor are Clear Lake, S. D., his old home town, and Napoleon, N. D., Mrs. Haynes' old home town.

Dates Fixed For 1940 Regatta

Already people can begin making plans for next year's Regatta, for the dates have been set, with the annual festival still nearly 11 months away.

The event will be held August 28, 29 and 30 and September 1, the Regatta committee decided at a meeting Friday night. The idea in setting the date so far ahead was to give the committee a chance to get its publicity machinery going early.

The committee also authorized Chairman Guy Hickok to appoint an auditor and have the books inspected. Reports at the meeting indicated the Regatta this year probably just barely broke even financially.

The committee will meet again within two months for selection of the 1940 chairman and other organization work.

Regatta Sticker Makes Appearance In West Virginia

Those Astoria Regatta sickers certainly do "get around".

The surprising news was received at the Chamber of Commerce today that 'way back in West Virginia one of the Regatta windshield markers was seen, because a collector has written for one for his collection.

Nelson L. Kraft, a patient at Hopemont Sanitarium in Hopemont, West Virginia, wrote the chamber asking for one of the 1939 Astoria Regatta stickers to add to his collection of booster stamps and advertising stickers.

Needless to say, a generous supply was forwarded to Collector Kraft for himself and his friends with whom he exchanges labels.
